Walk 4

- 1 Alight from the bus at the bus stop and turn left to walk on the footway towards Horncastle. Continue out of the village, crossing the lane and follow the footpath bearing right across the field to cross the footbridge. Continue downslope to the fingerpost, through the hedge and turn right, following the path to the boardwalk. Turn right and follow the stream, crossing the footbridge, over the stile and boardwalk, emerging into the field. Cross the field corner by bearing left across the field to the footbridge in the hedge line.
- 2 Cross the stream and turn left, walking uphill. Look out for the signpost, and follow the path to the right as it heads towards the village of Ashby Puerorum. Cross the next field, heading towards the right of the copse, cross the stile to emerge with the church on your right. Why not explore St Andrew's this small church built of Spilsby Sandstone, known locally as greenstone?
- 3 Turn left out through the farmyard to emerge onto the tarmac road. Continue along, pausing to read the interpretation board on your way out of the village, until you reach a road junction. Turn left and follow the road until you reach another junction. Turn left then right at the fingerpost, leaving the road and joining the public bridleway. Continue straight ahead, passing over 3 fields and through metal gates to drop down to a footbridge.
- 4 Cross the footbridge and continue straight ahead, with Hoe Hill on your right. Follow the path to the left and uphill, round the field edge and woodland to a footbridge, cross this and join the farm track, follow it left uphill to join the road. Turn right toward the village, interpretation panel and seat.

- 5 Turn left onto High Street, Fulletby. If you want to visit St Andrew's, the Victorian greenstone church with its display on Henry Winn, walk down Paradise Lane, then rejoin High Street via Winn Lane. Continue along High Street as you walk out of the village, towards West Ashby. As the road bends to the right, bear left along the No Through Road, past the farm and keep on the Viking Way.
- 6 Follow the route as it becomes a farm track then a grass strip and turn left, keeping the hedge on your right then cross through the hedge and continue round the field edge to the right. Follow the waymarker left through the hedge and follow the grass strip straight ahead, then right and left, continuing to follow the Viking Way markers as it bends its way to join the Horncastle-Fulletby road.
- 7 At the road, turn right and walk towards Horncastle, crossing the River Waring. As you approach the town, take the footpath on the left and follow the path behind the houses to join the road. Turn left and follow Bowl Alley Lane past the schools. At the junction, cross over Stanhope Road and walk along The Becks, to join Linden Road and turn left. At the junction turn right onto Banks Street and continue to the Bullring. Cross carefully to walk straight ahead along High Street and into the Market Place and the bus stop.

Lincolnshire Wolds
 The rolling hills of the Lincolnshire Wolds is the highest ground in the eastern England between Yorkshire and Kent. Much of it was designated an Area of Outstanding Beauty (AONB) in 1973, recognised as a special landscape on a par with a National Park. It is easy to see why Tennyson found the area inspiring!

St Andrew's Church
 Look out for the rich greenstone (Spilsby Sandstone) tower of St Andrew's Church. Dating back to the 12th century, it was restored and repaired in 1850 at a cost of approx £300

Skylark
 As you walk across the fields listen out for the warbling song of the skylark as it hovers and circles above the ground. They usually lay 3 to 5 eggs in a nest on the ground

Hoe Hill from Fulletby Top
 At Fulletby Top is the impressive silhouette of Hoe Hill. Rising to a height of 127 metres, it is a prominent geological feature, that some believe to have been the site of early prehistoric activity
