

Adventuring Aberfeldy

Aberfeldy, located in Highland Perthshire boasts to offer the best of Scotland in a nutshell.

There is something to do for all ages and interests whether you seek sport, history, culture, or wildlife. Aberfeldy is Scotland's first Fairtrade town and retailers and attractions in the area do their best to promote Fairtrade, organic and environmentally friendly products. There is plenty to do from taking in the local gallery, experiencing the history of the Black Watch Memorial and tasting the finest whisky.

A list of things to see and do whilst exploring Aberfeldy:

- Aberfeldy Golf Course is Perthshire's finest 9 hole course. Stunning scenery and a course that will test your shot making ability.
- Aberfeldy Gallery showcases contemporary work of artists based in Scotland. Artworks include paintings, photographs, prints, glass, woodwork, sculptures, pottery, and jewellery.
- Black Watch Memorial commemorates the regiment who were tasked with looking over the Highlands in the 1700s. Benches nearby to have a seat and take in the beautiful views.
- Splash White Water Rafting offer rafting, canyoning, paddle boarding, paintballing and loads more!
- Visit Dewar's Aberfeldy Distillery where you can learn the story of the founder John Dewar, indulge in tasting from their single cask or go for a tour around the distillery.
- Watermill Bookshop and Café has the widest range of titles in the rural highlands, and you can treat yourself to their light lunch menu with a selection of cakes on offer.
